

Not-for-Profit News

Published by Charitable Advisors LLC

Cincinnati Not-for-Profit News Subscribe FREE at www.NotforProfitNews.com

What can the Cincinnati Not-for-Profit News Do for You?

The Cincinnati Not-for-Profit News is a FREE weekly e-mail publication that quickly brings readers up to date on news, trainings, and job openings in the local community.

In central Indiana, with more than 7000 weekly e-subscribers, we have changed the way that nonprofit leaders connect, stay informed, and recruit. Now we are expanding to Southwest Ohio to support the vibrant nonprofit community in greater Cincinnati.

Update – In less than three months, we have attracted 900+ Greater Cincinnati nonprofit leaders, staff, board members and volunteers as subscribers

Save Time – we scan the local and national press plus summarize local nonprofit news and deliver headlines and links to your in-box every Friday morning.

Develop Your Staff and Board – help board and staff members gain a fuller appreciation for nonprofits, as a sector, plus keep up with national trends and local organizations doing complementary work.

Don't Be “the Best Kept Secret” – we encourage you to share your news about programs, people, training and job openings. No formal, time-consuming press releases – just send us a short note (see following pages for guidelines)

Save Money – Until July 1, 2008, everything we do for you is FREE. After July 1, we will begin charging $75 for a one week job ad and $100 for a two week ad. Both include four weeks on the www.NotforProfitNews.com website. $50 more advertises in Indy, too.

We are a “Good News” source - The general media is on the lookout for bad news about the nonprofit sector. We don't publish bad news about local nonprofits or the sector – when an issue arises, we will look for resources to prevent similar circumstances.

We Don't Compete for Grants or Donations - In many communities, what we do might be subsidized by the philanthropic sector. In Indiana, we have become self-sustaining through the efforts of volunteers/contractors and small fees charged for employment ads. Over the past seven (7) years, we have evolved into a small, social-purpose business that exists to inform and strengthen the nonprofit sector.

Promote Every Job Opening - Job Ads are FREE from April-June 2008 – We want everyone to give us a try and know how many organizations don't have budgets to pay $300-800 per opening to advertise. Even in July, our standard rate will be only $75 for (one week) and $100(two weeks). Both include four weeks on the website.

We are a cheerleader and promoter of all things nonprofit and look forward to partnering with nonprofit staff and board leaders across the community to advance the mission of your organization and those you serve. Join the hundreds of Cincinnati nonprofit professionals who have already discovered us.

We began publishing on March 27 and have set a goal of 1,000-1,500 subscribers by the end of June. We invite you to join us in connecting and informing the Greater Cincinnati nonprofit community. Please subscribe, FREE, at www.NotforProfitNews.com and encourage your staff and board members to join us as well. (You can see past editions posted on the website as well.)

All the best,

Bryan Orander, President
Charitable Advisors and the Not-for-Profit News
Bryan@NotforProfitNews.com

Victoria Henderson - Customer Service
Victoria@NotforProfitNews.com

Kristen Orander - Job Ads
CincyAds@NotforProfitNews.com

Julie Struble - News, PR, and Announcements
CincyNews@NotforProfitNews.com

Share us with your Marketing, PR, and Training staff

We are here to help your organization get the word out about what you are doing!

Guidelines/Examples for submissions:

Think of us as a publisher of “Headlines”, not news stories. With the exception of job ads, we just need a couple lines and a web link for more information, as available.

Job Ads (6-8 lines in Arial 10 pt) submit to: CincyAds@NotforProfitNews.com

Senior Director of Advocacy, Arts & Culture Partnership, Fine Arts Fund (Cincinnati, OH) - new position, responsible for the professional oversight and management of an initiative to build public awareness and understanding of the need for increased investment in the arts and cultural sector of the Cincinnati region through a sustained, strategic advocacy effort. Excellent communication skills, experience in public policy, Boardroom presence, passion for arts and culture. Bachelor's degree and 7 – 10 years progressively responsible experience in advocacy and/or strategic communications. Respond to: Search Committee – Senior Director of Advocacy, Fine Arts Fund/Arts and Culture Partnership, 2649 Erie Ave. Cincinnati, OH 45208 or Executiveoffice@fineartsfund.org EOE (Featured April 10 and 17)

Representative Payee Program Coordinator, Mercy Connections (PT-Cincinnati), a Division of Mercy Neighborhood Ministries, a mission-driven not-for-profit organization serving disadvantaged adults and seniors. Coordinator manages program for approximately 20 adults (seniors, mentally and/or emotionally challenged) who require a payee to manage their financial subsidy from Social Security. Requires: Excellent “people skills”, including flexibility; Counseling or social case work exp desirable; Experience with persons with mental/emotional disabilities; Moderate to excellent computer skills; Budgeting/financial skills; Familiarity with Medicaid, SSI, etc.; Bachelor's Degree preferred. Part-time—20 hours. Respond with letter and resume to: Sr. Sally Sherman, Program Director at: shermanrsm@mnministries.org (Featured April 10 and 17)

Submit to: CincyNews@notforprofitnews.com

New Staff Announcements -

Neighborhood Nonprofit welcomes Janet Jones as Executive Director and Bob Smith as Case Manager.

News: 1-2 sentences for new programs, receipt of grants, community education

Pathway Family Center is helping to promote and create awareness of National Inhalant Prevention Awareness Week (March 16-23) to raise awareness of the dangers and popularity of inhalant use and abuse by adolescents. (Link)

The Indianapolis affiliate of Susan G. Komen Race for the Cure has awarded a grant of more than $100,000 to the Community Health Network Foundation. (Link)

The YWCA of Indianapolis announced that it is continuing to accept nominations for its annual Salute to Women of Achievement Awards. (link)

Submit to: CincyNews@notforprofitnews.com

Trainings & Events: Send the name of training, date, time, location, cost, and how to register or contact person. (Sorry, we are not able to include fund raising activities)

A Network Lunch for Youth Ministries - Thursday, April 12 from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The Carpenter's Son at 1165 S. Creasy Lane, Lafayette. $10.00 (includes lunch). Contact Jillian M. Miller at inrn@glvb.org or 765-742-8241.

Volunteer Opportunities: Send the name of the event, time, location, one sentence description of duties, and contact person.

The Humane Society of Indianapolis needs for volunteers for Mutt Strut on Sunday, April 29, 2007 to work outdoors (rain or shine.) Shifts from 7:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. FMI www.indyhumane.org/donations/muttstrut/ or 872-5650 x102